Dr. Nadim Bikhazi, Utah ENT Specialist, one of the most popular sinusitis specialists in Utah, is proud to announce that he has recently received a number of rave reviews that highlight his awesome track record of delivering quality healthcare. He is so popular that patients have been known to travel from Idaho and the Salt Lake City area for his treatment.

Nadim Bikhazi himself says: "My commitment is to a results-oriented approach to the management of nasal and sinus problems. For these problems, I attempt to use a minimal-invasive approach. In many cases, patients can achieve the desired results with less down-time and costs. I am very happy to hear that patients are pleased with the results in resolving their sinus problems."

As an ear, nose and throat (ENT) specialist, Dr. Bikhazi frequently works on sinusitis, a common but often chronic and annoying sinus infections. At the same time, he has provided treatment in other areas, such as snoring, sleep apnea, allergies, and sinus disease. He offers sinuplasty, which is a form of surgical treatment whereby the sinuses are enabled to function better.

"The balloon sinuplasty procedure is very successful and only minimally invasive," explains Dr. Bikhazi. "I have experienced great results with it, particularly because it is such a quick procedure that can be completed inhouse. Most people use over-the-counter and prescription medication to treat sinusitis, but this is only effective to a certain degree and for a certain period of time. Once that limit is reached, a surgical procedure, such as the balloon sinuplasty that I offer, may be the only way to find relief."

Those who have used the services of Dr. Bikhazi have been incredibly pleased with the results they have experienced. Specifically, Dr. Bikhazi uses balloon sinuplasty to address sinusitis. This is a procedure in which a balloon is used to dilate the sinus, thereby providing relief. Prospective patients have found this Utah patient testimonial helpful. Patients are indeed very happy with the results.

Dr. Bikhazi is fully registered with the American Academy of Otolaryngology and is therefore authorized to perform the kinds of treatment that he provides.
