Avasia has announced that it is moving its headquarters from Beaverton, Oregon, to the United Kingdom. Avasia, with website at www.avasia.com, is predominantly a family business and, for personal reasons, the family will be based in the United Kingdom, at least for the next three years. The Beaverton office will continue to be open for business.

Spokesperson Natasha Avasia says: "We will be spending at least the next three years in the UK. Nevertheless, the business will continue to operate. It just means that we have a new address for our headquarters. And, since the company is doing so well, our Beaverton office will continue to be open so that our customers will not be affected in any way."

Avasia is a prenatal brand of dietary supplements. The company understands just how important the decision to have a baby is, and they want to ensure prospective parents are properly prepared for the arrival of their baby, ensuring they properly nurture and nourish their unborn child. The company is very proud of their products, which are available in suitable dosages, focusing on both prenatal and postnatal needs.

While the company is mainly concerned with the proper nutritional health of mothers and babies, they also want to provide advice, information, and guidance to prospective parents. In order to do this, they have released regular book reviews and a fact sheet with further information. Avasia is a family business at heart, but they also want to become part of the family of many others within this country, and now within the United Kingdom.

"The United Kingdom is known for having some of the best maternity services in the world," adds Nastasha Avasia. "Prospective parents are properly supported throughout their pregnancy and parenting journey and we're really looking forward to being a part of that. At the same time, we won't abandon the family we have built in this country, and we will continue to be available. It's just important that people consider the time difference."

Further details on how Avasia is faring in the United Kingdom, and when they will return, will be made available as and when, at the company's Twitter page at <https://twitter.com/AvasiaPrenatal>.
