July 11, 2016

July 11, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

To celebrate their partnership selling goods on Amazon, Oregon based Avasia has announced that they are running a special promotion on Amazon for the entire month of July. The company has announced that they will be offering their prenatal multivitamin tablets on sale at 3 for 2, meaning customers can purchase 3 bottles of the supplement, but will only be charged for 2. This buy 2 get 1 free sale will end at the end of July. AVASIA has also pledged that for every 3 for 2 offer taken up in this period, they will give a further additional bottle of prenatal vitamins to charity to support those women in our society who may struggle to afford prenatal vitamins.

Natasha Avasia with the company says, "It's a great deal for our customers and one that we hope expectant mothers will take advantage of, particularly as, through the charitable donation that AVASIA will make, they will also be helping another pregnant woman at the same time."

The company provides a number of products for pregnant mothers, new parents, and newborns, and states that their goal with this promotion is to ensure that all pregnant women get the vitamins and nutrients that they need to care for their bodies and their unborn child. Details about the extended sale can be seen on the Amazon marketplace at <http://www.amztk.com/avasiaprenatal>.

Prenatal vitamin supplements can reduce the risk of a number of birth defects, as well as preterm birth. They are often prescribed within a few weeks of doctors diagnosing pregnancy, and have been taken by pregnant women for decades.

"Prenatal vitamins and pregnancy just go hand in hand," Avasia states. "We know that not all women realize the importance of this supplement, which is another reason that we're extending this promotion. We want pregnant women to protect themselves and to lower various risks that are associated with pregnancy."

Avasia, which can be seen at avasia.com, provides the supplements solely on Amazon, the company says because the marketplace offers a more convenient way for expectant mothers to order and receive the products that they need.

Avasia states that the company is proud to have partnered with Amazon to offer parents and expecting parents a number of quality products to help lessen the stresses of parenthood. Avasia states that interested parents can connect with them through a number of ways, by visiting their website, looking at their official seller's page on the Amazon marketplace or by following the company on Twitter at <https://twitter.com/AvasiaPrenatal>.
