July 15, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Tina Hendrick with Ray A. Shaffer, Inc. in Schwenksville, Pennsylvania, has been named Contractor of the Year by the PHCC of Pennsylvania. She has been at Ray A. Shaffer, Inc. since 1995, and has worked tirelessly to bring the company into the 21st century, embracing the necessity of an online and social media presence.

The Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Contractors Association (PHCC) has a history of assisting contractors for more than 130 years. The organization offers services, information, and various resources to plumbers and others in the industry, helping to set the standards for service and representing more than 3,500 contractors and members who provide services to residential and commercial customers. The organization works as an advocate on legislative and regulatory issues for the industry.

"It's truly an honor to be recognized by such an important organization in our industry," says Tina Hendrick. She points out that more about the company, including more information on the award, can be seen on the Ray A. Shaffer Facebook page.

Ray A. Shaffer is a founding member of the Quality Service Contractors, which started in 1995. The company provides a number of plumbing services, from emergency plumbing to stop leaks to drain cleaning, sewer camera inspection, sewer line repairs, well pump services, and water heater repair and installation, among others. A complete list of the services that they offer can be seen on the Ray A. Shaffer website.

"We're a family, a family that works together and strives to offer our customers the best service in the business," declares Tina Hendrick. "This is why it's such an honor to be recognized. We're all just doing what we do best." Tina has utilized PHCC education classes as well as attended both state and national events including the Legislative Conference. "I have been taught, as in life, you only get out what you put into it," says Tina Hendrick.

Hendrick says that the company has been working to bring their systems and their customers up to date with current technology. Their website and social media accounts are updated regularly to help customers stay informed of any new developments.

Ray A. Shaffer has been serving the Schwenksville area for a number of years, offering plumbing services that the company states are designed to handle every crisis, and every need. Those interested can learn more about Ray A. Shaffer by visiting the company's official website.
