Staffordshire, United Kingdom - Private Expeditions Limited continues to provide "adventures one step beyond" with the addition of a new trek through the Himalaya. The highly regarded adventure company now offers customers an open door to undisturbed natural beauty with its Manaslu Circuit trek. Located in central Nepal next to the much busier Annapurna range, Manaslu offers a quieter yet equally scenic Himalayan experience. The Manaslu Circuit shares many of the remarkable panoramas viewed on the Annapurna Circuit, but without the high traffic and developed roads. Manaslu gives travelers a pure and uncluttered Himalayan trek.

The Manaslu Circuit provides a new experience for travelers, but customers can remain confident in the experienced care they receive from the experts at Private Expeditions. Starting with UK advisors who travel extensively themselves, the company is positioned to provide adventure travel answers from firsthand experience. Company founders Paul and Jane Deakin's truly global view for Private Expeditions led them to develop a quality international team as well. The company handpicks and trains all the local guides to ensure the best people are available to assist travelers who choose their treks.

The Manaslu Circuit offers more than a quieter route through the Himalaya. It offers a window into unparalleled natural beauty. The trek begins in Kathmandu with a drive to the market town of Arughat. From there, the trail makes its way through gorgeous local farms and begins to climb into pristine bamboo forests. As the trek continues, travelers will enjoy breathtaking views from forest cliffs.

Along with the natural beauty of the mountains, the people of this area are beautiful as well. The Manaslu Circuit will take travelers into the Nupri Region where they will meet villagers who are descendants of Tibetan immigrants. Visitors will notice a contrast between the culture of these mountain dwellers and the Nepali people in the lower areas. This makes the trek a multicultural experience of a lifetime.

The most memorable part of the Manaslu Circuit comes when crossing the mountain pass, Larky La. From there, travelers will enjoy views of Himlung Himal, Cheo Himal, Kang Guru and Annapurna II before a visit to Manaslu base camp on the way to the trek's end at Besi Sahar.

Private Expeditions is licensed and insured. Committed to leave no trace principles, the company supports local charities in each country where it works.
