July 28, 2016 -
Mr. Rooter Plumbing of Savannah in Georgia has announced that they are now handling emergency plumbing situations for customers in and around the region. The company states that they understand the frustrations of having emergencies, like burst pipes, and that they will provide fast and efficient services to solve the problem.

Mark Jacobs with Mr. Rooter Plumbing of Savannah says, "A burst pipe is not something that you can leave until morning. It needs to be fixed then and there to prevent serious damage to your home or business, not to mention the cost of all that wasted water."

Jacobs says that the Savannah, GA plumber will come to customers' homes at any time during the day or night, on weekends and even holidays to ensure that they are protected from further damage. He states that a burst pipe does more than merely waste water; it can ruin flooring and the basic structure of the home if not fixed in a timely manner.

"Time is certainly of the essence when you're dealing with something like a burst pipe," adds Jacobs. "You need an emergency plumber on call, on your speed dial, so that you can make contact quickly if and when you are ever faced with this situation."

Jacobs says Savannah home and business owners can depend on Mr. Rooter to offer these emergency services and to quickly get to the root of the issue, ensuring that no further damage is done. He states that his team of Savannah, GA plumbers will not just quickly fix the issue, but they will also ensure that the problem is solved correctly, so that no further issues will be caused by the burst pipe.

Home and business owners throughout the Savannah area are urged to contact the company if and when they notice excess water pooling up or if they notice an extreme drop in water pressure, as this can signal a serious leak or pipe burst. The company has 24/7 emergency services to assist customers in the event of any plumbing emergency. More about the Savannah GA commercial plumber can be seen on their official website.
