July 21, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

July 20, 2016 - It's not a surprise that oceanfront drug rehab centers are rising steadily in popularity. While it can't be denied that the most important recovery factors are internal, the fact that the external environment can certainly help recovery can't be denied. Especially when the person in recovery is being housed in the center. Enter Galt Ocean Rehab Center, who many refer to as the best oceanfront drug recovery center in Fort Lauderdale, Florida. The center offers tried and true treatment options, highlighted by a PHP with housing program that takes full advantage of both the skilled therapists as well as the beautiful oceanfront rehab environment.

"At our state of the art oceanfront rehab center, we have created a low stress environment that offers customized treatment designed to support the complete mind-body connection that is needed to facilitate a safe recovery," commented a spokesperson from Galt Ocean Rehab Center. "Our being a waterfront drug rehab center here in Fort Lauderdale, where the average temperature is in the mid-70's we are able to hold many of our classes, programs and activities right on the beach. This can be remarkably therapeutic."

According to the center, in addition to their Partial Hospitalization Program with housing, they also offer Intensive Outpatient and Outpatient options to be able to meet nearly any person struggling with addiction's needs. Any individual seeking treatment at the oceanfront rehab facilities can rest assured in knowing they will receive a complete assessment by Galt Ocean Rehab Center's highly trained staff and their own needs will be identified and addressed expertly.

Feedback from patients for the center and its programs has been very positive.

A recent patient remarked, "One of the best treatment centers I have ever attended! They treat you like royalty and sobriety always comes first. The staff is respectful and friendly. I would recommend this treatment to anybody with an addiction issue. I am happy and clean at 60 days and am very thankful for everything Galt Ocean, and it's staff, have done for me."
