

New Wyatt Condos Coming To Toronto

July 29, 2016

July 29, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Wyatt Condos, a new condominium project being overseen by the Daniel Corporation, is making its way to Toronto, Canada. The central location will see unit sales begin in Autumn of 2016, and the property management team is hoping that the trendy location will bring in a wide range of residents. The area is described as follows: "A hub for urban exploration, an emerging presence in the arts, a place that's close to everything and nothing like you've experienced before. The Wyatt puts you at the centre of the action, close to the TTC, trendy coffee shops, grocery shopping, parks, art and recreation as well as the new MLSE Athletic Grounds - complete with outdoor hockey rink, running track, soccer field and a basketball court."

The details on the newest Daniel Corporation project can be seen online at <https://mywyattcondos.ca>. Here, those interested in buying can see details on pricing, location and floorplans. The affordable homes will have enough space for single studio to three-bedroom living. The company has said the following regarding the placement of the new project: "The Wyatt condos are developed in the revitalized Regent Park area and will allow buyers to be part of the historical Regent Park area including neighboring Bartholomew condos, One Park Place Condos, One Park Place Townhomes and One Cole Condos, among others."

The 5% down payment through gradual deposit payment plan for the Wyatt condos is considered to be a reasonable financial option for first time buyers, and buyers on a budget. The BOOST program is also an option on this property type for first time homeowners.

Revitalization of the park is scheduled to be completed over the next decade and a half, and the Wyatt Condos will be part of 5,115 units to cover the 69 acres of land. Each unit will be built using modern designs, energy efficient appliances, and various other components considered to be both aesthetically pleasing and convenient. Plans for the units seen at mywyattcondos.ca offer a closer glimpse into the 26 storey building.
