

Just Released: Free Marketing Template for Auto Repair Professionals

July 22, 2016

July 22, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

West Palm Beach, Florida - JackmanCreative.com has just released a free marketing template to help independent automotive-repair and care-care professionals streamline the challenging and time-consuming process of reaching new customers.

Roland Jackman, owner of JackmanCreative.com, says, "Independent automotive professionals don't have the mega budgets that the chain stores benefit from. So this free marketing tool gives them three low-cost options they can use to generate 25% more business. For many car care experts, this adds up to at least 30 more customers every month."

Mechanics, body shop owners, paintless dent repair (PDR) professionals, oil change operators and automotive detailers have all realized substantial and verified increases in the numbers of customers they serve by using techniques shared in this template.

To get a copy of this free marketing template, visit www.JackmanCreative.com.

JackmanCreative.com specializes in local marketing to benefit independent automotive repair professionals. Its unique 3-Step Client Attraction System is a low-cost, and proven effective program for automotive professionals to seamlessly grow their customer base and their business revenues.
