Happy Baby Reviews is proud to announce the launch of their new website that focuses on car seats and other baby-related products. The site is dedicated to providing parents with important information on the comfort, safety, and happiness of their baby. As such, it includes in-depth reviews on various car seats, as well as information on what to look for in car seats.

Julie Schumaker from Happy Baby Reviews says: "As a mother myself, I always felt swamped and overwhelmed with the large number of different car seats that were out there. I was confused whether to put them in the front or the back seat, whether to make them face forward or backwards, what type of seat to get, and more. At what age would my child be ready for a booster seat, for instance? I made it my mission to lift the veil on all this confusion, so that people can make the right decision for their child, and for their own peace of mind as well."

While having only recently launched the website itself, it is already populated with a great deal of articles and reviews. For instance, they have posted a full review of the Graco Contender 65, which is one of the world's most popular convertible car seats. "One of the biggest benefits is it's ability to transform from rear-facing to forward-facing," adds Julie Schumaker. "According to a reliable reviewer whose three children used this convertible car seat over a span of five years, buying the single product was (and still is) just like purchasing 2 seats in one."

Graco is one of the most popular brands of car seats out there today, with the brand having a solid reputation for both comfort and safety. The downside of these seats seems to be that they are more on the pricey side than other car seats, but it is impossible to put a price on the safety of a child. It is also for that reason that Happy Baby Reviews recommends that everybody should look into more info about rear facing car seat. It is important to understand what the pros and cons of this type of car seat.
