A new product, known as 10k Social Media Recruiting Formula, has been launched by Jessica Higdon. Jessica is a network marketer trainer that was the number one earner in a previous company who has worked hard to share her knowledge and success with others. Her latest product is designed to help entrepreneurs recruit leaders through social media platforms and to build their own successful six figure company in doing so.

Unlike similar products, Jessica's model is said to work without any need for technical knowledge or expensive internet marketing systems. Instead, it applies easy to understand and re-teachable data and it comes in a four module strategy. Potential clients may want to reach out to Jessica and contact her to learn more about the strategy, or read about each module on the company website.

The strategy used to power the 10k Social Media Recruiting Formula includes posting guide and profile positioning through social media, locating idea prospective leaders, exact scripts to build rapport, and stress free closing through additional scripts. Jessica invites marketers to learn more on her Facebook Page. She says: "My social media accounts never get shut down. I never receive complaints from strangers - because this proven recruiting formula is based on respect for others and social media guidelines."

Those who make use of the new formula will also receive Jessica's "Zero Rejection Conversation Template", "Social Media Attractor Factor Checklist", and recordings of 4 accountability online events. The investment requires either a one-time or two monthly payments, which Jessica describes as being a "no brainer". Throughout her website, she helps clients understand her own rise to success, beginning as a struggling marketer before finding her stride and breaking through barriers to earn more than 10,000 dollars per month. She explains, "You deserve a fun, flexible and stress-free recruiting solution and a simple "non-techy" system you can follow to secure your own 6-figure income.
