July 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Covington, Georgia - A leader of temp agencies in Georgia, Express Employment Professionals in Covington, GA, has recently published survey results finding that "lack of applicants" is what businesses presume to be the cause of available jobs going unfilled. Their two month long summer campaign, Hot Summer Jobs, highlights a top job in the Covington area every week with the hopes of drawing in more applicants.

Three-hundred forty businesses participated in the survey in December of 2015. When the results were finally released this past April, the survey showed that 41% of survey takers chose "lack of available applicants" as the number one reason open jobs go unfilled. Following behind, 26% said "lack of experience" and 15% chose "lack of hard skills".

"Matching the best employees with our local businesses in Covington can be quite a feat to conquer," says John Culpepper, the owner of Express Covington. "We hope to change that stigma promoting the best jobs out there this summer."

The Hot Summer Jobs campaign promotes one vacant "hot job" in the Covington area a week on the employment center's social media. Those who have a friend or a family member in need of a job are encouraged to set up an interview with Express Employment Professionals in Covington, GA by calling (678) 203-3001.
