Pro Pad Inc. in Mooresville, North Carolina, has announced the launch of four new decorative topper options for motorcycle flag poles. The company states that their Police Department, Blue Lodge Mason, Shriners, and long awaited United States Coast Guard toppers are now available.

Mike Enzwiler with Pro Pad Inc. says, "We've had customers anxiously awaiting the U.S. Coast Guard topper, and we believe that our other toppers are going to be quite popular."

Enzwiler states that the company appreciates all five main branches of the military and are thrilled to be able to offer one now that represents the U.S. Coast Guard, to go along with their current Army, Air Force, Navy, and Marines toppers. The new toppers can be seen at <http://www.thepropad.com/decorative-flag-pole-toppers/>.

The company says that customers who already have their flag mounts, but want to dress them up can use these decorative toppers, which fit the 9, 13, 15, or 20 inch poles by Pro Pad Inc. They are double sided with medallions on both sides, and are constructed of quality polished stainless steel.

"And of course, our products are 100 percent made in the USA," says Enzwiler. He states that none of the decorative toppers are imported.

Pro Pad Inc. provides a number of motorcycle parts and accessories, including a variety of flag pole toppers. These latest toppers are added to a line of several, many of which are designed for those who want to express their patriotism. From military affiliations to general American themed mounts, Pro Pad offers a variety of accessories for a number of individual preferences. The new flag pole toppers are currently available for purchase on the company's website.
