August 30, 2016

August 30, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Orlando Water Damage Experts, based in Orlando, Florida, have announced that they are now offering water damage restoration services for those in the area. In light of recent flooding in Louisiana and other states, the company says that they are providing services designed to help their customers get back to their normal lives as quickly as possible.

"We understand the frustrations that come along with water damage," says Billy Cooper with Orlando Water Damage Experts. "Our goal is to make this as easy for you as possible, and to get you back to your home, and your life, as quickly as we possibly can."

Cooper says that aside from acts of nature, there are a number of things that can cause water damage. Broken pipes, broken hoses, and even clogged drains can cause massive damage quickly. He points out that if water damage is left untreated, it can cause significant additional damage and promote mold growth, which is both unsightly and unhealthy.

"The thing is, you don't want to just let damage sit there," Cooper states. "It may not look like much right now, but if you have damage, then there's a reason, and you need to find the cause and fix it quickly to avoid what could potentially be very expensive repairs in the future."

Cooper says that most homeowners don't realize that water damage is often the result of hidden pipes or other issues that they may not even notice until a lot of damage has already occurred. He urges those with any sign of damage to contact the company, to help avoid additional damages.

The company offers a range of services to help restore homes due to water damage, whatever the cause. Cooper states that they are certified in their field and use the latest in technology and the most updated methods to provide the best possible service for their customers. In addition to damage repair, the company also provides mold remediation and other services.
