Kingston, Jamaica - GraceKennedy's Jerk Seasoning, currently available on the large online marketplace Amazon, has reached a milestone of 100 reviews. In addition to the number of reviews, they currently have an outstanding 4.9 out of 5.0 rating.

This milestone achieved by GraceKennedy is important because it shows the likability of their products to online customers. Products such as their Jerk Seasoning, shows how the company is capable of continuing to bring the authentic taste of Jamaica to the online market and at the same time please their customers with the great flavour.

The company, GraceKennedy, based in Kingston Jamaica, has been established from as far back as 1922 and has made it their goal to deliver the best products to customers. The Amazon portal allows the Grace brand to showcase the best Caribbean food and represent it to the USA market.

A representative from GraceKennedy commented, "We are excited that so many people love our unique taste of jerk sauce. We value our customers and thank them for their feedback on the Amazon portal. We will continue to produce the best sauces that will deliver the tastiest flavors to whatever meal they prepare."

One of the numerous reviews about the jerk seasoning written by a customer called Aota stated, "This was a present for my husband. We just got back from Jamaica and were talking about how good Scotchies was for jerk pork. We needed some way to bring the flavor home. I got some dry rub at the airport but was told I should use a wet sauce as well. This made the meat perfect. It was hot, but not too hot and the real Jamaican flavor."

Another reviewer remarked, "We use this sauce as a marinade. The longer you leave the sauce on the meat the better the flavor. Jerk chicken comes as close in heat and flavor to the one we had in Jamaica. This is an excellent product."

The Grace Jerk Sauce is currently available in an eleven ounce bottle that provides the customer with a suitable amount of sauce for their cooking pleasure. The product can be bought in a 1-pack, 4-pack or 12-pack to suit the needs of the consumer.
