

Norristown General Contractor Announces The Completion Of A Major Remodel Of Fire Damaged Home

May 20, 2015

May 20, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Jack Strogus, spokesman for www.penvalconstruction.com PenVal Construction, has recently announced the completion of a major construction project in the Norristown area. The job involved a major remodel of a home that was previously damaged by smoke and fire. The Norristown General Contractor was called in after a fire, which started in the kitchen of the duplex and ripped through the house leaving destruction in its wake.

Strogus explains that the damage was so extensive that a total renovation was required of the kitchen area, including replacing all of the appliances, the dining/living room, 2 bathrooms, 2 stairways, and 3 bedrooms.

Because of the extent of smoke and fire damage, the project called for construction expertise in many areas including demolition and debris removal, carpentry, kitchen and bathroom remodeling expertise, and more.

The Norristown General Contractor has also recently completed a luxury composite deck installation in King of Prussia, PA. The 2nd story decking project required an extensive knowledge of framing, roofing, and working with the new composite materials.

The company has been in business for more than 22 years, providing both residential and commercial construction for the region. They have been called on for projects of all kinds including kitchen and bathroom remodeling, home renovations, basement renovations, water damage mitigation and all other sorts of repair projects. As they point out on their website, "You name it and in the last 22 years our experienced, local, craftsmen have repaired it, improved it, designed it, or built it?."

The company enjoys a great reputation with many of their past customers repeatedly coming back to have their next home remodeling project done. Strogus explains that much of that reputation stems from the combined experience of the company's two co-founders, himself and Joe Cacciola, who both worked in the Construction industry before PenVal Construction came into existence.

Jack Strogus and Joe Cacciola joined forces in 1993 bringing all of their experiences with them when they created the new company. They take pride in doing their job "right, doing it well, and doing it quickly," which is why they are able to enjoy such a strong reputation in the community.

However, it is their special expertise in bringing a residence back from fire and water damage that has garnered them the greatest praises from their customers. Because of the devastation to a home, it can seem very difficult to come back from. As they have explained, "no matter how big or small, the fire or water leak, it can turn your world upside down. Between the actual fire damage, the damage due to efforts to put out the fire, and finally, the damage caused by the water, the whole process can seem overwhelming. Yet, PenVal Construction has been able to restore even the most devastated homes and buildings.

The company, with a website at www.penalconstruction.com, provides services to a large number of towns in the area including, Bala Cynwyd, Berwyn, Bryn Mawr, Chadds Ford, Chester Springs, Devon, Gladwyne, Glen Mills, Gwynedd, Haverford, Kennett Square, King of Prussia, Malvern, Media, Newtown Square, Norristown, Paoli, Phoenixville, Thornton, Valley Forge, Villanova, Wayne, West Chester, and the Main Line.

###

For more information about PenVal Construction, contact the company here: PenVal Construction
Jack Strogus
610-422-3997
penvalinc@aol.com
960 Rittenhouse Rd #101
Norristown, PA 19403

PenVal Construction

For 22 years PenVal Construction has successfully provided quality craftsmanship for our customers needing the following services: Home renovation, Kitchen/Bathroom/Basement/Home remodeling, Fire/Water Damage repairs, Roofing, Flooring and Decking.

Website: <http://www.penalconstruction.com>

Email: penvalinc@aol.com

Phone: 610-422-3997