September 01, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Beauty and personal care insiders are abuzz with talk about a new product taking the market by storm - SpaVerde's Dry Brushing Set. Industry professionals as well as everyday women searching for glowing, healthier skin are singing the praises of the dry brushing set, which is the first to commingle a natural face brush and a natural body brush in one convenient package.

Beauty retail stores are filled with body brushes and face brushes which claim to help improve the quality of the skin but most end up disappointing customers with lackluster results. SpaVerde is changing this by providing women with a product that is guaranteed to rejuvenate skin and restore skin health and youth, all without any chemicals. Unlike creams, polyester brushes or other traditional skin-care solutions, the SpaVerde dry brushes offer a new alternative, that is both effective and 100 percent natural.

What are the benefits of dry brushing? This age-old beauty practice has been used by almost all historical civilizations including the Native Americans, Japanese, Chinese, Ancient Indians, Russians, Turks and the Scandinavians. According to these cultures, dry brushing can reduce cellulite and stretch marks. Its bristles stimulate blood circulation as well as lymph circulation. Dry brushing daily exfoliates the skin, cleans the pores and eliminates dead cells from the surface of the skin.

For best results, SpaVerde recommends using the dry brushing set as part of a daily skin care regimen. The best time to dry brush is right before taking a shower, preferably in the morning. Consistent use will garner the most impressive results.

Amazon shoppers looking for SpaVerde's new dry brushing body brush can purchase it exclusively through Amazon. The product retails for $19.95, but for a limited time customers can save 25 percent by entering code SPAVER25 at checkout. This product is backed by SpaVerde's 100 percent money-back guarantee, which promises a full refund. No questions asked if dissatisfied.
