Retirement Strategies, a financial planning company based in Farmington Hills, MI, is very happy to announce that they are in the process of finishing their new office building. Scott and Andrew Briggs are the second generation of Retirement Strategies and both have 20+ years of experience in the insurance and financial services industry. Having been mentored by their (now retired) father and founder of Retirement Strategies, Ronald Briggs Sr., the two brothers look forward to the future of the company. Having children of their own, they hope to keep the family tradition alive by mentoring the next generation and continuing to grow their family's business. Further details about the opening of the new office will be released on their website at <http://www.retirementstrategiesmi.com/>.

Scott Briggs, CSA, of Retirement Strategies, says: "It is our goal to have the finishing touches done and be all moved in by the late summer of 2016. Farmington Hills has been our home since the 1970's and we hope to brighten and give back to our community through the addition of our building that compliments the landscape here in Farmington Hills."

Having made a healthy investment in their local area by completely renovating an old machine shop that dates back to the 1940's, Retirement Strategies looks forward to the completion of their new office as well as the smiling faces of their new neighbors, when they move in.

Retirement Strategies specializes in annuities, wealth transfer, and asset preservation from one generation to the next. By the looks of their new office, it is truly a testament to the success this second generation family business has had in providing sound retirement advice and helping retirees reach their retirement goals.

Scott and Andrew have been at the heart of the construction and renovation of the new office and already feel they have a real bond with it. They will keep people up to date about its progress, as well as make an official announcement about the official opening date once they have it. People are encouraged to checking on the company's website regularly to stay up-to-date.
