Successful Marketing Solutions, based in Inglewood, California, has announced new perks to their popular luxury vacation club that is available through the bestonlinebusinesstravel.com website. The company recently stated that those with memberships in the club now have the opportunity to earn money while enjoying the perks of travel.

Robert Boyd Sr, CEO of Successful Marketing Solutions, says, "Imagine a world where you can save money and enjoy luxury travel. Now imagine that you could actually make money while doing those things. That's what our program does."

Boyd says that those who enjoy traveling have the opportunity to earn money and work around their own schedules and wherever they want to work. He states that the business opportunity is highly recommended for those who want to earn a residual income and particularly those who also want to experience luxury travel at much lower than average costs.

"We honestly offer the best vacation club memberships," Boyd says. "Because not only can you vacation in Aruba for little to nothing, you can also earn a good residual income by helping others do the very same thing."

Boyd says that the travel leisure business is booming and that those who are interested should seriously consider getting started now. He states that the opportunity comes with a starting guide that offers a comprehensive look at making the business successful as well as full training on how to operate the business and a number of additional perks.

Those who are merely interested in taking advantage of the exclusive travel deals that come along with membership can join as well according to the company, and enjoy trips to the Caribbean, Mexico, and a host of other destinations. Boyd says that there are things to keep in mind when planning a trip, whether as a member or as a business partner.

Boyd explains that business hotels normally offer lower rates during weekends because they cater to weekly conferences and business meetings. He also states that using certain credit cards can merit points that could add up quickly. These and other tips, as well as a full look at the business opportunity that the company offers, can be seen on the Best Online Business Travel website.
