

CMS Social Announces Free Trial For Social Media Marketing Service

August 01, 2017

August 01, 2017 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Miami Beach, Florida based SEO company, CMS Social, has announced a 30 day free trial for their social media marketing services. The company states that the trial will allow businesses to try their services and decide if they would like to continue before committing to the affordable monthly payment plan.

"It's a great service," says Matt Gronbeck with CMS Social. "We're going to help businesses gain more exposure and we're doing it for free for 30 days. I believe everybody would want to take advantage of that."

The social media marketing free trial gives clients custom curated content for their websites posted daily to Facebook and Twitter company pages. Gronbeck says that customers who are not completely satisfied with the service will pay nothing and simply end their trial period. Those who would like to continue can opt for the monthly service fee that the company offers.

"We post fresh new content once per day to social media accounts, seven days a week, and even on holidays," says Gronbeck. "It's a no lose situation. If you're not happy, just end the trial any time prior to 30 days from signing up and you owe nothing."

Gronbeck says that most businesses will find their social media marketing services to be very beneficial, as they help to reach customers and drive in more revenue. He states that companies that do decide to continue after the trial period will have the option of cancelling the service at any time with no contracts to sign.

Social media marketing is one of the most effective ways of reaching targeted customers on a more personal level. Businesses with Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and other social sites have the opportunity to connect with customers and reach them with personal messages. This personal level of interaction is often what drives customers to purchase products or services from various companies.

CMS Social offers a number of social media services, all of which can be seen on their official website at <https://www.cmssocial.com/contact-us/>. Those interested in learning more about the free trial can find information regarding it and chat with a company representative on the site as well.
