The current standard recommendation is to not expose skin to UV-C radiation, which continues to be appropriate in most cases. However, medical research as indicated in the U.S. National Library of Medicine is showing that in extreme cases, such as in burn victims, UV-C exposure to localized infections may be helpful. Concern that skin DNA is damaged by UV-C seems less worrisome than first thought because of the body's abilities to rapidly repair skin DNA. The infection fighting from UV-C can be life saving. Tisha's Choices, a business in Vancouver, Washington, is highlighting products such as #MyBioDefense, which uses UV-C, in life threatening situations, including burns, where no medical services are readily available. These products can be used for wounds during emergency triage.

My BioDefense is proving to be an incredibly popular product for a range of different sanitization situations. It has received consistent five star reviews on Facebook and on the website of Tisha's Choices. Their UV-C Sanitizing wand is designed to kill up to 99.99% of harmful bacteria and viruses within seconds. It is designed to effectively enable people to take control of their health immediately.

Jillian Gregg, spokesperson for Tisha's Choices, says: "The My BioDefense sanitizing wand is a product for sanitizing various surfaces, such as desks, phones, and other areas where high levels of bacteria and viruses are usually found. Meanwhile, following the research listed in the US National Library of Medicine, we want to draw attention to the fact that it can also be used for emergency medicine. Because the wand is so portable and easy to use, we recommend that people have it with them as a form of emergency first aid at all times. You never know when a burn happens, and treating it immediately is of the greatest importance."

Tisha's Choices, meanwhile, is a company that focuses on giving people access to products that make their life safer and more enjoyable. They place a particularly strong focus on products suitable for travelers, which includes TSA friendly travel kits, and also a range of products that increase safety during travel. The My BioDefense wand is the latest of their offerings.
