September 27, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

San Diego Homes for You has announced they released a new app on Monday, September 12, 2016. This app was designed to give consumers information on any home in the Carlsbad and San Diego, California area. With regards to the newly launched app, a San Diego resident said, "This is one of the best real estate apps and real estate websites I have ever seen."

The app enables home shoppers to snap a photo of any home to get all the information they need about that home. Appropriately named Homesnap, it allows consumers to find homes for sale, open houses, recent sales, and house values for every home in the United States. The app can be obtained at <http://tinyurl.com/SDHomeSearch>.

Dennis Smith with San Diego Homes for You says, "Homesnap is the easiest way to get accurate real estate info. It's perfect whether you're standing in front of the house or sitting on your couch."

The app has been designed to work on a desktop, laptop tablet or smartphone, and is available for both IOS and Android phones. The company states that it provides accurate and up-to-date real estate data. Unlike national portals, the app is powered by the same real-time MLS listings that are used by real estate agents, ensuring that consumers receive all listings and updated statuses with every search. Interested consumers can learn more about the company at SanDiegoHomes4u.com.

Smith states that house information provided on the app includes home values, interior photos, bedrooms, bathrooms, property lines, taxes, public school info, and much more. Consumers are shown satellite views of homes, including boundary lines, and the app allows searches for homes for sale or rent within specific school boundaries.

"Our built-in messaging feature makes talking about homes fast and simple. Homesnap organizes your home search so you can find and discuss homes all in one place. You'll love how easy it is to keep track of all the homes you care about," says Smith.
