IA U.S. GC has announced new, enhanced federal contracting program to help U.S. small businesses grow profits so that they can enjoy a comfortable lifestyle, be free of money worries and retire whenever they choose.

Chip Ellis Fort Lauderdale explains, "The federal one-page company resume called a Capability Statement is a critical tool to federal contracting success. One of the biggest mistakes that prevents small businesses from capturing federal contracts is an improperly created Capability Statement in the wrong format."

This is where the new FEDVICTORY Contracting Program comes in. Since 2008, the International Association of U.S. Government Contractors has helped over 1,500 small businesses successfully launch into the federal government marketplace.

Chip Ellis Fort Lauderdale believes that small business owners must have professional help learning how to properly market their products and services to the federal government and now the FEDVICTORY Contracting Program includes an entire module dedicated to creating Capability Statement in the proper format.

Chip Ellis Fort Lauderdale explains, "To successfully sell products and services to the federal government, small businesses must have a complete Capability Statement in the proper format." Already IAUSGC clients seem to be confirming his motto:

"Chip Ellis Fort Lauderdale created and formatted my Capability Statement. I have launched into the federal government and made millions in just 18 months!" says Elizabeth, a realtor. "The FEDVICTORY Contracting Program is the fastest, easiest lowest cost way for a small business to grow by selling to the Federal Government," says Association President Chip Ellis Fort Lauderdale.

Anyone who owns a small business and would like make serious money with federal government contracts and need help exploring if the federal contracting is the right fit for their business then the FEDVICTORY Contracting Program presented by the International Association of U.S. Government Contractors may be a good option.
