October 14, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

The American Diabetes Association organizes regular events across the country to increase awareness of and raise funds for diabetes, especially type 2 diabetes, and to encourage healthy lifestyles. Beeline Bikes Tri-Valley, based in Pleasanton, CA, is supporting one of these efforts, namely the Women's Tour de Cure in October 2016. Full details are available at <https://www.crowdrise.com/womensseriestour/>. Andy Frey, owner and operator of the mobile bike shop, will be volunteering to provide ride mechanical support.

Andy Frey himself says: "I am really passionate about helping any effort to find a cure for diabetes and I am therefore very happy to provide volunteer support to the Tour de Cure. It will take place on October 23, and I will be providing mechanical assistance to anyone that needs it. Specifically, I will be based at the second rest stop, but I am to provide it to anyone who can get to me, or who I can get to."

Beeline Bikes Pleasanton provides mobile bike repair services from the Tri-Valley area, up through Walnut Creek and Lamorinda. Customers can request a service at their home or at their work and have their bike repaired at their convenience. Booking is done online or via telephone, or through <https://www.facebook.com/beelinebikestrivalley/>. During the Tour de Cure, Andy Frey will be present at the event to provide assistance as and when required.

Those who have used the service have been incredibly pleased with the results. One customer says: "What a great experience. Schedule online to have work done at my convenience. That's a win. The local bike shop was a 2-week wait and I would have had to schlep both my kids' bikes in for a tune-up... I would use Beeline again in a heartbeat."

Andy Frey, as shown on his profile at <https://www.beelinebikes.com/mechanics/andyfrey>, has a true passion for cycling. He has worked as a mechanic for several years, has joined bike racing events, and then worked in a number of shops. He then worked as a musician and in the high technology industry for several years, while continuing his interest in bikes. However, he has now returned to working on bikes, where his true passion lies. He also encourages people to look into franchise opportunities through Beeline Bikes.
