

Abdominoplasty In Manhattan Can Now Be Combined With Liposuction

October 17, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Two popular cosmetic surgery procedures for men and women alike are abdominoplasty or tummy tuck, and liposuction. Both procedures are designed to make people look thinner and trimmer, by removing excess fat and excess skin. Discreet Plastic Surgery, a clinic in Brooklyn, NY, is proud to announce that they have created a whole new procedure, which combines abdominoplasty with liposuction, for even more dramatic results. Full details are available on <http://discreetplasticsurgery.com/procedures/body-2/tummy-tuck-manhattan/abdominoplasty-manhattan/>.

Dr. Daniel Kaufman from Discreet Plastic Surgery says: "Very often, patients find it difficult to choose between having liposuction, which removes fat from key areas of their body, and a tummy tuck, which removes some fat, but also excess skin, from the stomach area. Now, with our new procedure that combines both options, people no longer have to choose because they can have both at the same time. The results are nothing short of dramatic and we're very happy to see how much interest the new procedure has been attracting."

Those interested in the new procedure are encouraged to contact Discreet Plastic Surgery online through <http://discreetplasticsurgery.com/contact-us/>. This will enable them to book in for an initial consultation, where they can discuss their wishes and Dr. Kaufman can make recommendations for the most appropriate procedure. If patients accept his advice, they can start to prepare for the procedure before having it completed, after which a period of aftercare will start.

Those who have had the procedures at Discreet Plastic Surgery have been very happy about the results. "His courteous staff always makes me feel welcomed," says one patient on <https://plus.google.com/+Discreetplasticsurgery>. "Dr. Kaufman is the consummate professional. He listens & provides valuable insights regarding any procedure I've had done or any that I may be considering (the pros & the cons). My office visits feel more like time with a friend who is concerned about the best options for me. I've recommended Dr. Kaufman to everyone I know."

Dr. Kaufman prides himself on providing a personal touch to each of his patients. He has been successful in his goal of making people feel better about themselves, which is partly due to his knowledge and skills in plastic surgery and partly due to his philosophy of simply making them feel good.
