

Assisting Hands Voted #1 Assisted Living Alternative In Houston

October 18, 2016

October 18, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Assisting Hands, an assisted living Houston, TX company, is proud to announce that they have been rated #1 as an assisted living alternative in the area. The company is committed to ensuring that their clients are able to remain in their own home, so they don't have to go through the disruption of leaving the place they feel most comfortable in. In so doing, the company is able to build on both the health and happiness of its clients.

Terri Robbins, founder of Assisting Hands, points out that: "Quotes are case by case basis dependent upon the client and how much is required of the care givers."

The company wants to emphasize its commitment to maintaining its excellent reputation, by offering the highest quality services. While they offer similar services as those provided by other companies, they set themselves apart by always going that extra mile. They provide personalized care based on the needs of their clients, which includes things like bathing, dressing, laundry, light housework, errands, shopping, medication reminders, and meal preparation, but also elderly companionship. Their trained caretakers service all of Houston, delivering personalized care.

Each caretaker within the company has been inspired to join the home health care Houston company because of personal experiences. Some have been employed in assisted living facilities, while others have needed these types of facilities for their own loved ones. All have felt that elderly people and those who require assistance deserve better than what is currently available.

Terri Robbins, for instance, provided care to her own mother during her battle with breast cancer. Marisol Reyes, who founded the West Houston branch of Assisting Hands, had a similar experience, as her mother insisted on remaining in her own home while she fought against cancer. And Glenn Brass, who founded the North Houston branch, was employed in management positions surrounding care giving as well. Their combined goal is based on their passion for care, wanting to make sure people receive the highest quality, safest service.

All of the caregivers who work for the senior care Houston company have passed both State and National background checks. They are highly qualified and experienced, and have a cheerful and professional disposition. They are continuously trained and monitored by the company, and each employee is hand selected.
