Sarasota, FL: When to collect Social Security may be the single most important decision seniors make when it comes to their retirement. In fact, timing could be everything! There are a lot of very common mistakes people make when signing up for Social Security; like assuming that attempting to draw full benefits at age 65 will allow for a sufficient and comfortable retirement. Times have indeed changed.

Hal Hammond, a Sarasota, FL retirement planning expert, is offering two free seminars on June 10th and June 13th dubbed Strategies to Maximize Your Social Security Income. These seminars are designed to help people learn little known strategies that are capable of boosting benefits and greatly increasing retirement income.

Retirement planning is custom and one size does not fit all. Special strategies should be developed for married couples, as opposed to divorced individuals and minor children. Unfortunately, many go at this retirement planning task lacking specificity and one uninformed decision could potentially impact one's income by tens of thousands of dollars.

"It's critical to receive your financial information first hand and really understand the variety of options that are available to you," says Hal. "Attendees of my Strategies to Maximize Your Social Security Income seminars, learn exactly how benefits are calculated along with simple strategies to increase them."

"There's a section within my seminars where I focus on timing. I explain how what you don't know could cost you," adds Hal. "By learning when to apply for Social Security and how to coordinate your benefits based on your unique situation provides you what's needed to make the best informed decisions to avoid mistakes and maximize assets."

The Strategies to Maximize Your Social Security Income seminars take place at 6:30 PM, Wednesday June 10th and Saturday, June 13th at The Gulf Gate Public Library, which is located in 7112 Curtiss Ave, Sarasota, FL 34231. Seating is limited and reservations are required! Call Today to Guarantee Your Reservation: (941) 366-6600. (If married, spouses are urged to attend!)
