Dr. Brian M. Gamble, who runs the Gamble Medical Group in Garden Grove, CA, has announced that his medical office is now offering Immigration and Naturalization Services (INS) physical medical exams, as well as Emotional Support Animal (ESA) services, to Garden Grove and surrounding areas. He has stated that they are striving to provide the most reliable INS doctor Garden Grove residents can depend on.

Dr. Brian Gamble himself says: "We are proud to announce that we have been accredited by the USCIS to provide the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) Form 693 immigration physical medical examination for aliens seeking adjustment of status or to complete examination requirements for permanent residency. This service is available by appointment only at present."

With the current global refugee crisis resulting in an increasing number of aliens arriving in the country, and the current presidential race causing insecurity in many immigrants, the demand for INS exams has gone up quite significantly. The Gamble Medical Group, therefore, felt it appropriate to become accredited in order to make any transition period into becoming a US citizen much easier.

Dr. Gamble also wants to set the clinic apart as provider of the best ESA doctor Garden Grove can go to. Emotional Support Animals are companion animals that provide a therapeutic benefit to people who have a mental or psychiatric disability. Those who have an ESA are encouraged to bring the animal to the office for evaluation by a doctor after which an ESA letter will be provided. This letter can be shown to the landlord in communities where there is a "no pets allowed" rule. The ESA letter is also useful when traveling with the animal.

"ESA is a companion animal that provides therapeutic benefit, such as alleviating or mitigating some symptoms of an individual with a mental or psychiatric disability. ESAs are typically dogs and cats, but may include other animals. We offer various ESA packages to ensure people do not have to struggle to keep their animals with them."

People are encouraged to contact Dr. Gamble for information on any of the services provided, which go above and beyond the INS and ESA. He has also made it possible for people to book an appointment online.
