

Riverside County Injury Lawyer Media Page Now Online

May 29, 2015

May 29, 2015 -
Riverside County injury lawyer Kevin Cortright has announced the launching of a new media page on his firm's website. The page is to help people find valuable information about the many things or events that may be deemed newsworthy in relation to workers compensation and injury law in Riverside County and its surrounding area.

The page was set up to highlight significant features about the personal injury and workers compensation attorney and the progress his firm has have in regards to certain cases. It will be the one source that people will be able to refer to for the latest press announcements on legal changes, special events, or any other matters that may be of concern to the firm.

On the media page, people will be able to get detailed information on how to contact the firm if they have questions or would like to find out more about certain events they may be involved with. It will list the various ways to reach the personal injury attorney, which are through email, by phone, or any social media channels they may have.

Visitors to the page will find a bio, which will give a snapshot of his life outlining his educational background, experience, and even delve into the factors in his past that may have pushed him into the world of law.

In addition, the Riverside County Injury Lawyer Media Page details and lists the areas where he has earned significant recognition; awards received, honors given, or times when his services to his community have been acknowledged in a positive way.

The new media page also contains links to other writings or materials about the law firm as well as cite areas where Cortright has contributed to the knowledge about the law in some way. Visitors can expect to be redirected to articles written about the firm, blogs that the Personal Injury Attorney may have contributed to, or other written material online that relates to the firm.

The Riverside County Lawyer's firm has been providing legal protection for people in the community since its founding. They can provide personal injury and workers compensation assistance for anyone who was hurt in an accident that has caused a damaging impact on their lives. Their professional legal team says:

"Whether you've been injured at work or in an accident a free legal consultation is essential to make sure your rights are protected."

The firm offers this free legal consultation so that anyone who may be concerned about their position in filing a claim, or have any questions or concerns about their legal standing surrounding their circumstances with their injury, will be able to get help at no charge.

According to attorney and spokesman for the firm, Kevin Cortright, the Riverside County Injury Lawyer Media Page will be the go-to place for all things related to news events and happenings when it comes to injury law in Riverside County. Visitors are encouraged to check the page often so that they can stay up to date on what's going on in the field of injury law.
