Commercial Claim Hero offers commercial property clients help in settling insurance claims. The fees are a small percentage of settled claims.

Thornton CO: Commercial Claim Hero is pleased to announce that the company provides help in pursuing commercial property insurance claim battles with support to the client in documentation and settlement processes. When there is extensive damage to a commercial structure, such as a restaurant, hotel or retail store, insurance carriers don't always want to pay the full amount of settlement. The client may not receive enough from the claim to restore the premises to operating condition. The insurance firm may deny the claim completely.

For businesses with a denied commercial insurance claim Troy Graff and his skilled and experienced professionals a denied claim is just a starting point. They make sure that all elements of the damage are identified and priced accurately. The result can mean increased settlements of significantly more than the initial level of settlement. The professionals take care of all the documentation and identification of potential claim amounts.

The public adjuster helps clients to maximize insurance settlements and get the money that is deserved. The team of professionals specializes in hail and wind, fire, roof damage and tornadoes. They have handled claims for hurricanes, floods and more. They serve the entire state of Colorado and are licensed to operate in sixteen other states.

According to a spokesperson for the firm, "We charge no upfront costs, so the customer has zero risks. There are no out-of-pocket expenses. You only pay us a small percentage of the settlement costs. If we cannot settle your claim, we don't get paid. We are focused on representing your claims."

He continues, "We handle the entire process, from evaluation and documentation of all the details of the damage to your commercial property to building the case to negotiate with your insurance carrier. We are licensed by Colorado and sixteen other states to legally represent you and your best interests."
