October 24, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Hill Treekeepers offers experienced professional tree care throughout the Greater Poughkeepsie and Wappinger Falls areas. The firm practices an environmentally aware business for all aspects of tree and shrub care.

Hopewell Junction NY: Hill Treekeepers and owner Todd Hill are pleased to announce the new look for their online presence. The Hopewell Junction tree service professionals have been providing services in the area for years, but have just recently released a revised and upgraded the website to explain their services and provide helpful and interesting information on the topic of environmentally aware tree services. The new look for the website brings customers and readers more information about the services available for commercial and residential space.

Speaking to an interviewer recently, Todd explained, "We are a tree care service that holds itself to the highest standards. We are professional arborists and tree removal experts who help to ensure that trees and shrubs surrounding your home or business offer aesthetic appeal. The right type of greenery increases the value of your property and nurtures wildlife with needed food and habitat. Trees and other plantings offer shade to lower cooling costs, remove contaminants in the air and soil, and more."

The base of operations is in Hopewell Junction, but service is provided to surrounding areas, with a rapid response time. Their service includes Fishkill, East Fishkill, Poughkeepsie, Wappinger Falls, Myers Corner, Hillside Lake and Stormville NY. The professionals can respond quickly in the event of an emergency where tree service is needed.

The extensive list of services includes ornamental pruning, large tree transplanting, cabling and bracing, and woodlot management. Difficult and dangerous tree or stump grinding services are available for the safe and efficient removal of problem plantings. When trees have suffered storm damage, the professionals can offer solutions, as well as roof inspections to monitor damage. The team can provide integrated pest management and consultations for horticulture, planting, and design. Whether the services are to change the appearance of the property, make it healthier, or to improve the design and color, the professionals can make the suggestions to serve as a starting point.
