October 31, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Pensacola, Florida is proud of its sporting legacy, being home to teams such as the Pensacola Ice Pilots, the Blue Wahoos Baseball, the Gulf Coast Riptide, and the Five Flags Speedway, there are almost daily competitions going on. Award Masters Inc., a business in Pensacola, is proud to announce that they have increased their line of trophies to ensure that these teams and many others, are able to properly celebrate their team members' achievements.

Eddie Hill from Award Masters Inc. says: "We love to be able to play a part in the sporting legacy of our town. While our focus has long been almost solely on corporate awards, we have decided to expand our line to include sporting trophies as well. This is our personal passion, as we all play sports ourselves and support our children to do the same."

Award Masters Inc. has been making quality corporate awards, employee recognition awards, crystal awards, acrylic awards, trophies, plaques, promotional products and hundreds of unique personalized gifts since 1981. During that time, they have built a solid reputation of being one of the best companies of their kind. They have recently increased their digital marketing campaign, enabling more people to find them.

The new line of trophies has been released as part of the celebrations of the latest Nobel Prize awards.

Award Masters Inc. stayed on top of the Nobel Prize developments, sharing information about new awards through their Google+ page on <https://plus.google.com/b/117004645143887467796/117004645143887467796>. "This year's Nobel Prize ceremony was incredibly exciting," adds Eddie Hill. "To see someone like Bob Dylan receive a Nobel Prize is just amazing. And every year, we see an increase in demand for prizes and awards after the Nobel ceremony, perhaps because people are inspired by the proceedings. Either way, we are operating at full capacity, so people can contact us for all their trophy and award needs."

As part of their new digital marketing campaign, Award Masters Inc. has also launched their Twitter account on <https://twitter.com/awardsmasterinc>, where they share information about their company and about other major award ceremonies.
