October 28, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Jillian Gregg with Tisha's Choices, a Vancouver, Washington based company, has recently announced that the company's TSA friendly travel bottles are set to be included in the Amazon Lightening Deal which is scheduled for October 31, 2016. Gregg states that the deal will only be available to customers at 9:40 a.m. on that day.

"This is such a great time to get your hands on our popular TSA approved travel bottles," Gregg says. "And you can get them at an amazing deal."

Gregg states that this is just one of the Lightening Deals that the company will be part of over the next few weeks, and says that customers should check in to see what other products may be eligible for discounts at various dates and times. She adds, "You'll find great deals on many Tisha's Choices products on Amazon over the next couple of weeks."

She says that in addition to the TSA approved water bottles, the company is also offering steep discounts on their hair bows for girls, as well as on other products, but says that those deals can only be taken advantage of during the actual sale period.

Amazon provides Lightning Deals to allow customers to save money on their favorite products or gift products for the upcoming holiday shopping period. The marketplace has a number of sales going on during the weeks before Christmas, and Gregg states that her company is glad to be part of something that allows their customers the opportunity to save money while purchasing their favorite products.

The company's travel bottles have grown in popularity since their initial launch some time ago, with customers offering raving reviews over their ease of use and convenience. Gregg states that these and other products can all be seen on the company's official Amazon seller's page, and adds that products from ZombieDisasterKits.com are also planned to be part of the Lightning Deals that will be happening over the next few weeks.

Those interested in learning more about the travel bottles or other products slated for the Lightning Deals sale can do so on the company's Amazon seller's page.
