Grey Matters Studio offers a new game which celebrates Diwali, the grandest festival of India. The game is free and available on Google Play.

Grey Matters Studio is pleased to announce the launch of its new game, entitled Happy Diwali 2016. The game was created in honor of the most recognized festival throughout India. The game is suitable for all age groups and is fun to play. The event in 2016 is October 30 and is in honor of the Hindu Festival of Lights. It celebrates the victory of light over darkness and is an official holiday in many countries. The game is free and can be downloaded from the Google Play website.

According to a spokesperson for the game, "Happy Diwali to all of you. We wish you and your family Shubh Deepavali and may this festival bring you and your family prosperity and happiness. We present you with the game to try with you and your friends. The game is a multiplayer design so that groups can enjoy playing together."

The Diwali 2016 game has ten Gods and Goddesses that are part of the character list. Players can choose their favorite character by unlocking them during the progress through the game. The characters include Ganesha, the son of Lord Shiva and Parvati; Kartikeya, the second son of Lord Shiva and Parvati; Han, the seventh avatar of Vishnu; Krishna, eighth avatar of Vishnu.; Shiva, The Destroyer.; Hanuman, avatar of Lord Shiva; Yama, God of Death; Lakshmi Ma: Goddess of Wealth and Prosperity; Kubera, God of Richness; and Ravana, Devotee of Lord Shiva. Demon King.

The ambiance of the Diwali themed game includes rockets, chocolates and ice cream as obstacles. In the background there are fireworks. Competition with other people throughout the world is possible, using a network connection. The game features daily free gifts and free coins if needed. Although the game is free to play, there are in-app purchases in order to unlock characters quickly. Scores can be shared and posted using social media.
