McW offers an iconic retail outlet store in various cities throughout New Zealand. The addition of their comprehensive website benefits those who like to explore a range of home furnishings and wares.

Christchurch NZ: McKenzie and Willis are pleased to announce that they have a succession of retail outlets in various cities in New Zealand. In addition, their updated website features images of their furnishings and housewares, plus tips and suggestions about taking care of the pieces which are purchased. Dining chairs and furnishings for every room of the home and outdoor spaces are shown in the easy-to-navigate website. Customers can choose from a selection of styles, colours and price boundaries.

Chairs for the dining room are available in a variety of choices by many different designers using modern or classic fabrics or construction materials. Customers can search the offerings by brand name or price. In the more than two dozen pieces featured in this category, brands include the Italian style Caligaris, Sketch, or Ottago. A group of chairs from Vincent Sheppard, Global Design and Pure Home offer additional designs from which to choose.

The pieces available for customers in need of dining tables is extensive. As might be expected, some of the brands are the same ones which appear in the chairs category. In addition, there are tables with brand names of Ethnicraft and Bonaldo. The tables are available in a variety of shapes, including circular, rectangular and oval. The bases are as varied as the shapes and sizes. They feature clean lines and minimal extras, relying on the contemporary look to be aesthetically pleasing.

Six head boards are displayed in the online catalogue. The brand names include Le Forge Cherry, a fully upholstered piece for Queen or Super King size beds. Le Forge also offers the Charly Queen or Super King headboard in grey, black and natural linen, as well as grey velvet. Other manufacturers in this category are Turnwood and Sorenmobler. The sizes and designs can be selected to fit the preferences of the customer.
