Most people are familiar with gaffer tape. However, not everyone appreciates the versatility this product offers. To help people learn about the wide range of uses for quality gaffer tape around the office, Webgage Commerce Inc. has just released a new YouTube video. Retailer of the Gaffer Power brand, this company knows everything there is to understand about gaffer tape.

This latest video shares lots of helpful hints for using gaffer tape, saving people time and money. Marty Gagnon, company spokesman and video host explained what people can expect from this new video clip in a recent interview:

?We wanted to illustrate the various ways you can effectively use gaffer tape around the office. Some examples we demonstrate include blocking gaps in window sills to prevent ants and other insects from invading; stopping bathroom leaks; securing phone cables; and temporary fixes for broken objects. Gaffer tape is a very versatile product and we like to showcase its uses whenever we have the opportunity.?

Gaffer Power gaffer tape is one of the most popular household and workplace tapes on the market. It is available in a wide range of colors, allowing users to make the tape blend into the surroundings, or stand out, depending on the purpose. One of the appealing qualities of this tape is that it can be easily removed when needed without leaving behind a sticky residue. It's also exceptionally strong, durable and water resistant.

To view this latest video from Webgaze Commerce Inc. people can find it on the Gaffer Power YouTube Channel. There are also a number of other informative short videos available. Just by visiting this channel customers will be able to access special discount coupons, providing additional discounts on the Gaffer Power gaffer tape range.
