Double-side tape, also commonly known as carpet tape, can be difficult to use for the first time. Dealing with one sticky sided tape is challenging enough; two is extra hard. Webgag Commerce Inc. specializes in a whole range of gaffer tape products under the popular Gaffer Power brand, including double-sided tape. In an effort to help people use this tape more easily, the company has released a new video on their dedicated YouTube channel. This video demonstrates how to easily remove a layer from double-sided tape with one simple tip.

“Some people feel apprehensive when it comes to using double-sided tape. This is understandable because it can be difficult to apply for the first time, especially if you don’t know this simple tip,” explains Marty Gagnon, Webgag Commerce Inc. spokesman and video host. “In this very short video clip we show you the easy way to remove the second tape layer. When you pull a strip of double sided tape the underside is readily adhesive, the trick is then to remove the top protective layer to reveal the second sticky side; we show you how to do this easily in our video,” added Mr. Gagnon.

Most people use scissors or a sharp knife to cut double-sided tape. This creates an edge that makes it difficult to lift the second layer of the double sided tape. Instead of using a pair of scissors or a knife, Webgage Commerce Inc. recommends tearing the tape. This immediately allows the second layer to lift and is much easier to peel away. By following this technique it is faster and simpler to apply double-sided tape.

This short video can be viewed in its entirety on YouTube. The Gaffer Power brand is well-known throughout the United States and internationally for their diverse range of gaffer tape products for all domestic and commercial applications. Webgage Commerce Inc. hopes that this latest video will make it easier for people to use carpet tape. Anyone watching this video can also receive 30% off their next double-sided tape purchase with a special code. All products come with a 100% satisfaction guarantee for risk free purchasing.
