Oasis Ahead has announced an end of season sale for their K-200 sprinkler, available exclusively on Amazon at <http://www.amazon.com/Oasis-Ahead-Lawn-Sprinkler/dp/B01G72GVUW>. While stocks last, people can receive a 30% discount by entering code K200SALE at checkout. With the winter season fast approaching, some people may soon find that they have no need for sprinklers. However, this presents an opportunity to stock up on outdoor necessities for the spring season at a significantly discounted price.

Oasis Ahead's Martin Holst says: "Our pulsating lawn sprinkler has proven to be incredibly popular. It has an automatic shut off valve, which means it is far more environmentally friendly than most other sprinklers, something that our customers have greatly appreciated. With winter upon us, however, it is time for us to clear our shelves to make space for new things, which is why we have released a 30% off coupon while stocks last."

The sprinkler has been designed to be suitable for all gardening needs, from flower beds to irrigation systems, from lawns to cooling down surfaces, and more. It offers zero to 360 degree watering, enabling users through a simple to use setting to set it up as they want. The detachable shut off valve makes it easier to turn the sprinkler on an off as and when required. The sprinkler is also able to cover between 4,000 to 5,000 square feet, which is more than sufficient for the average garden.

Another thing that sets the device apart is that it comes with a connector thread, which means multiple sprinklers can be connected to it. This enables users to have a much larger coverage area.. Oasis Ahead also sells other sprinkler heads, so that people can purchase those at discounted rates.

"We are getting ready to launch our winter and spring stock, so we need to sell the last of the sprinklers we still have," adds Martin Holst. "They are flying off the shelves, with people trying to get a bargain on the things they will need next summer. Get there quick to not miss out on yours."
