November 22, 2016 -
GrowUpSmart, the educational toys and games company, has developed a Smart Tactics range of educational board games, the most popular one being their chess game. They are proud to announce that, besides the Standard and Plus edition, they now offer the Premium edition as well. Those interested can purchase the Premium version of the chess set on Amazon, which has the unique characteristic of including a bag of extra chess pieces.

Martin Reinhold, owner and founder of GrowUpSmart, says: "The new Premium edition of our popular chess game comes with the board and pieces included in the Standard Edition, the velvet chess bag included with the Plus edition, and an extra set of chess pieces. One of each piece, of each color, are included. This is a great backup, as it means that, should someone lose a piece, the chess set will still be complete, allowing the players to continue the game. It also means that the extra pieces can be conveniently used when promoting a pawn to a queen during play. And just like the other sets, it has algebraic notations along the top edge to make it easier to identify and record game moves."

Chess is a game that is often played in clubs, which means people need to carry their boards with them. In so doing, however, it is more likely that they may damage the board and lose some pieces. The Premium edition offers a solution to chess players for both issues. Furthermore, the extra chess pieces can be valuable during the promotion of a pawn to a higher ranking piece, such as a queen, rook, knight or bishop.

"Our goal is to make sure people can get as much enjoyment as possible out of the game of chess," adds Martin Reinhold. "This means that the players don't have to be worried about a missing chess piece, thus, we are making sure that their game isn't ruined just because a piece is lost, something that happens quite often. We're very happy to see that many people have already expressed an interest in our Premium set. Being only slightly more expensive than the Plus set, it makes for a very worthwhile investment for every chess player."
