November 06, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Dance studio, 'nMotion Dance Center, residing in JGM Properties University I multi-use building, offers quality dance education in a non-competitive class environment.

?nMotion Dance Center inspires their students to become the very best that they can be. With their dedicated and talented staff, ?nMotion has created an unsurpassed environment of dance education serving the families and community of the greater Twin Cities.

'nMotion director, Sarah Barnett, has used her lifetime of dance experience and higher education to develop an intense training program that all staff members must complete before teaching.

Owner Sarah Barnett has over 12 years of experience as a successful and respected dance educator and has been a student of dance for nearly 30 years. She has studied at J & L Academy of Dance, the University of Minnesota, Zenon Dance Center and Company and has participated in many internationally recognized master classes. Sarah continues to study dance to stay current in the latest forms and trends to provide her students with the best training possible.

"This training program ensures educationally sound techniques that provide students with sequenced age-appropriate physical and social development. We teach traditional and contemporary forms of dance and welcome beginners as well as advanced dancers of all ages into our program," says Barnett.

Rather than competitive dance, 'nMotion focuses on self-growth through providing the best holistic education in the art of dance, and make it accessible and affordable.

"We treat each of our students as an individual and foster self-esteem and diversity in our community. Many of our dancers are honor roll students, musicians, actors and athletes. They are well rounded high-achievers, and are still able to learn the benefits of dance, at their chosen level of involvement, not ours," says Barnett.

Some of the styles of dance taught at nMotion include: classical ballet, pointe, jazz, tap, modern, hip hop, musical theatre, choreography classes, and yoga.

"We also have a strong adult program for those who want a sense of camaraderie and a fun exercise option you can't find at a gym," says Barnett.

nMotion also offers a Family Discount ? parents will receive 25% off their second students tuition, 50% off the third student, and the fourth is free. Beyond the four are free too.

They also offer a Multi-class Student Discount ? get the second class for 25% off, the third class for 50% off, and the fourth is free.

"We are proud to be one of the few non-competitive dance studios in the Twin Cities. If you, like hundreds of others, are seeking a positive dance experience, then nMotion is the place for you and your family," says Barnett
