June 02, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Gabriel & Co, a New York based jeweler, has been announced as a featured exhibitor at the JCK Las Vegas. The event will take place at the Mandalay Bay Resort and Casino from Friday, May 29, to Monday June 2, and will provide a number of domestic and international designers the chance to showcase their work in a safe and secure environment.

The company is well known for their Engagement Rings, which can be viewed by collection on the Gabriel and Co., NY website at www.gabrielny.com. The wedding section of the site allows customers to search by ring type, using categories such as engagement, complete, anniversary, wedding, custom, or perfect match. They can also use characteristics for the search like the type of stone, setting, or metal used in the design.

Gabriel and Co., NY was established in 1989 by Brothers Jack and Dominick; they apprenticed under their father, Elias Gabriel, who was a master jeweler before opening the company and building a brand which they have been said to believe is able to honor relationships and create celebration through jewelry. The company has described itself as follows in regard to its modern day operation:

"Today, Gabriel & Co. has earned the reputation as being passionate, dependable, and artistic designers, creators and manufacturers. Our extensive line of timeless pieces encompasses classic and fashion-forward design, ultimately bringing together impeccable artistry with enduring technology, perfect for every unforgettable moment."

The JCK Las Vegas will include a number of Engagement Ring designers along with the Gabriel & Co brand, and is currently open for registration. More than 2,500 presenters from around the world will be sporting new trends in jewelry as well as traditional pieces from their collections. The event website offers information on registering, travel, accommodations, presenters and designers, and a number of other educational publications and links, which may be useful to consumers and businesses traveling to the show.

The Gabriel and Co. exhibitor description, featured at <http://www.jckonline.com>, provides a glimpse of the gold and diamond fashion that the company is known for. The pieces are said to be unique in comparison to many competitors and boast intricate designs and high quality materials. This is supported by customer testimonials, which can be found on the company's website.
