November 14, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

DenadaDance is a business in Minden, NV that develops products to help people get some relief from common, yet painful foot conditions. These include corns, bunions, hammer toes, and more. Some time ago, they developed and released their DenadaDance bunion corrector set, which has proven to be very popular. However, they did also receive a common complaint, which was that the set was too bulky. In response, they have now released new information on how to properly use the set.

Elena Vera, founder of DenadaDance, says: "Our goal was to create something that could be used for everybody, and the result was the bunion corrector set. It is a highly useful set that includes a bunion protector and a toe separator. If used properly, it can really benefit people, improving their overall quality of life by increasing their levels of comfort. Unfortunately, it seemed that a number of people didn't quite understand how the product works, which is why we have now released new guidelines."

The set, as Vera explained, consists of a toe separator and a bunion protector. The toe separator prevents new bunions from forming and allows any existing bunions to heal. The bunion protector, meanwhile, stops the sensitive skin on the bunion from being touched, which can be very painful. Both are made of a stretchy, soft, gel material. While created as one size fits all, every foot is different. Ensuring that the bunion correct fits on the particular foot of an individual user is as easy as trimming it down with some sharp scissors.

"Because the entire set is made of a durable but gel-like material, it is very easy to cut it to size," adds Elena Vera. "We include a lifetime guarantee with the set because we believe it will last forever, even if you do trim it down. Our set is designed to be suitable for all types of feet in this way."

The DenadaDance bunion corrector continues to be a very popular product on Amazon. In fact, even the less than positive reviews have conceded that the product does work and provides them with fantastic relief.
