Butler?s Auto Recycling Looking to Hire Automotive Dismantler

January 27, 2017

January 27, 2017 -
Milton, Fla. ? Butler?s Auto Recycling, a leading used auto parts store in Milton, FL, is currently searching for a potential hire. Butler?s has expressed that it is in need of an automotive dismantler to add to its team of skilled mechanics and technicians.

A full 40 hours a week, paid vacation and holidays, and no special training needed. The automotive dismantler position is now open to the public and it is not one to miss out on. Butler?s Auto Recycling wants to improve business more than anything, so a new hire is a great way to start.

?We?re not asking for any type of special training or prior experience, we just want a hard worker who?s ready to learn about the industry and make a decent living while doing it.?

Some of the benefits offered with the position include a standard retirement plan, health insurance coverage, and of course, vacation time. The Butler team only requests that applicants have basic knowledge of automobiles, hand tools, and a reliable method of transportation.

To be the premier auto store in Milton, FL, Butler?s Auto Recycling must strive to build the best team around the company. A strong, efficient team can only lead to production and success. The new position available is the perfect opportunity for those infatuated with cars, thanks to the ability to train on the job while getting paid. Also, since the position is commission-based, a new hire can pick up tips on how to work smarter, and not harder.

?I?m excited to see what applications we?ll be receiving,? Jim said. ?I know that we have plenty of talented, qualified individuals in Milton, so we want to give them the opportunity of a lifetime in an industry that we firmly believe in.?

If interested in the automotive dismantler position, email a resume to sales@butlerar.com. For more information regarding Butler?s Auto Recycling, please call (850) 623-4500 or visit www.miltonautoparts.com.
