November 21, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

With 30 years in the business of designing, creating and installing fine custom cabinetry in Atlanta, Northern Georgia and surrounding areas, Campbell Cabinetry, a business based in Smyrna, GA, has been recognized as the best choice for high-end custom residential cabinets and hand-built furniture. On the company's website at <http://campbellcabinetry.com/>, people can access details on just what they are able to do. It quickly becomes apparent, as well, why they have been chosen as best in class within the world of custom cabinetry design.

Fred Campbell, founder and owner of Campbell Cabinetry, says: "Campbell Cabinetry started as a cabinet shop specializing in custom built kitchens. Our natural ability to understand and interact directly with the homeowner combined with our ability to work well with builders and designers plus our passion of creating unique cabinet designs has transformed us into a full-service, premium custom cabinet company. Call us for a design consultation on your project. We take it from concept to completion."

As a full service company, Campbell Cabinetry's main focus continues to be on kitchen design. They continue to proudly celebrate the art of cabinetry. That said, they also offer people the opportunity to reface their existing cabinets, rather than building new ones. This is an alternative that is both cost effective and eco friendly, and is therefore rising in popularity. Lastly, the company has now expanded outside of the business of cabinetry, offering custom furniture as well.

Those who have worked with the company have been very pleased about the results. "We used Campbell Cabinetry for our complete kitchen renovation," says the Harvey family on <http://campbellcabinetry.com/testimonials/>. "We were very happy with the thoroughness and attention to detail Fred maintained throughout the project. The house is old and the walls very uneven, but Fred was able to work with the incongruities and make everything look superb. In the end, we had a beautiful new kitchen which is a pleasure to work in. We would be happy to recommend Campbell Cabinetry for all of your renovations, his skill and experience extend to any project you may have."
