

Rotating Lawn Sprinkler Set To Be Offered In Black Friday Deal

November 23, 2016

November 23, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Garden equipment company Oasis Ahead, has announced that they will be offering a deal on their K-200 lawn sprinklers this coming Black Friday. The complete details about the discounted price are currently still being kept quiet but people are encouraged to regularly check their promotions page at <http://oasisahead.com/promotions/> so that they may not miss out on the deal.

"They say the grass is always greener on the other side but it just means that your neighbors have been watering their lawn better," says Oasis Ahead's Martin Holst. "This year, we want to make sure that people can have the greenest, lushest lawn possible thanks to proper watering. This is why we will be announcing a very special deal on our K-200 lawn sprinkler this Black Friday. It may just be a perfect Christmas gift for that avid gardener as well."

The lawn sprinkler is a very popular product, being in fact one of Oasis Ahead's best selling items. It features a long range pulsating head and adjustable watering angle up to 360 degrees. It also includes a detachable shut-off valve and comes with metal weighted base for optimal stability. It allows for adjustment of the diffusion of the water stream and also the watering distance. A provision is also provided to connect several sprinklers for faster watering of the lawn.

One of the things that makes this sprinkler so popular is its excellent coverage angle. Oasis Ahead has put it through various tests to ensure the coverage they claim it has is accurate. "Many factors affect the sprinkler performance like weather conditions, the condition of hose and fittings and not least the local water pressure," adds Martin Holst. "We have tested the K-200 sprinkler under different water pressure conditions. If you know the water pressure in your house, you can get a rough idea of the performance you can expect from the K-200 sprinkler through the chart on our website."

Those interested in the rotating lawn sprinkler are encouraged to check the company's website regularly so that they will not miss the Black Friday deal.
