Debbie Bean Dodge, who is a Mary Kay Independent Sales Director, is proud to announce that she will be taking part in Small Business Saturday. She operates out of Destin, FL, as can be seen on her FB business page at https://www.facebook.com/pg/MKDebbieMK/about. She aims to encourage people to take their patronage to small, local businesses through these efforts.

Debbie Bean Dodge herself says: "Small Business Saturday is all about giving small businesses a chance to get greater exposure, and encouraging people to shop locally, and thus, support their local economy. I am proud to take part in this, because I am not only a small business owner myself, but I also aim to support others who want to start their own small business, thereby building on the local economy of Destin."

Debbie Bean Dodge works with women who are struggling to find the right skin care and color options, as there is an overwhelming number of choices available. She aims to make sure that every woman can look her very best, addressing in particular those women who wear no makeup simply because they do not know what would suit them. Debbie explains: "I work with women 1-on-1 and in small groups to teach them how to address their skin care and color needs. With our 100% satisfaction guarantee, my customers can be assured that they will never have a buying "mistake" and will use only the products that they love. Mary Kay is one of the top selling companies in skin care and color cosmetics because of the quality products, affordable prices, and personalized service. Mary Kay products are loaded with botanicals and most are safe for sensitive skin and are fragrance-free."

The main reason why Debbie chose to take part in Small Business Saturday was because she not only helps women look and feel their best, she also encourages them to start their own home-based business, working flexible hours around their busy lives. Many women end up choosing Mary Kay as a career path with no glass ceilings, and one in which they can even win a beautiful Pink Cadillac for their own personal use.
