

Northwest Home Buyers Makes Important Announcement On How To Sell A Home Without A Realtor

December 15, 2016

December 15, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Eagle, Idaho based Northwest Home Buyers has made an important announcement regarding how to sell a home without a realtor. The company provides real estate solutions that are designed to assist homeowners in selling their properties to avoid foreclosures and generally get out from under their homes.

"There could be any number of reasons why you need to sell a home," says Andrew Wheeler, strategic development specialist with the company. "Whether you're facing foreclosure, inherited a home and just don't need it, or you're looking to upgrade to a new property, this publication is for you."

Wheeler states that the published post provides information to homeowners on how to sell without a realtor to an investor. He states that there are a number of investors searching for properties and that the company helps to put buyers in contact with sellers, creating a win-win situation for everyone involved.

The newly publicized information informs homeowners on how to sell their homes and how they can receive a no obligation cash offer. Wheeler states that the offers are top dollar and that consumers should know that they are not low ball offers, but honest, legitimate offers to buy.

The post is designed to help homeowners know what to look for with regards to legitimate buyers. Wheeler states that there are different kinds of buyers that sellers will run into and understanding these types of buyers will help them to ensure that they will be able to sell for the best possible price.

Wheeler says that many homeowners prefer to sell as opposed to going through foreclosure which can have an adverse effect on credit scores. He states that selling is a good way to avoid the headaches that come along with unwanted or burdening properties but many homeowners unfortunately are unaware of how to go about unloading their properties and getting a good price when they do sell.

"If you are thinking of selling, we can help," Wheeler states. "Connect with us on our Facebook page, where you can also connect with other homeowners who have utilized our services."

Interested homeowners can also get more information by visiting the company on their official website.
