Alzafa.com offers a range of Indonesian natural herbs and medical equipment to the world. The main market includes Indonesia, as well as Southeast Asia nations.

Bekasi Indonesia: Alzafa.com and Mr. Arief Rahman are pleased to announce the launch of their new online website and e-commerce business. The Alzafa herbal product line includes medical equipment and Indonesian herbs for many purposes. The end users include people from Indonesia, but also nations throughout Southeast Asia. The goal of the new business online is to promote Indonesian natural products to the rest of the world. The products which are offered are the highest quality and the navigation of the website is easy.

Toko Online Herbal products are featured at the online shop. There are also many other brands and a variety of product types so that all the health and beauty products can be found in a single, easy-to-use location. Today, online purchasing is becoming a convenient and common way of obtaining products and services. This is true in Indonesia, as well as in many other parts of the world.

The product catalog includes images of the various items, so there are no surprises when the order is received. Payment and shipping for the products are handled in a secure and convenient manner. The range of products includes drinks, foods and beauty products. There are multiple brand names within many of the products. These include Darusyifa, Valleza, Bioterra, and Gholiban.

Some of the products include tea, soap, oils and creams, sachet, spices and goat milk. Date palm powder and products for relief of diabetes and cholesterol are included in the online catalog. Soy powder is another item which can be order and purchased online. Each of these products is designed to provide the highest possible quality results. Many of these products are not available in a local setting. Others are available, but the standards for production are less rigid.

The website is set up so that it is easy to navigate. The items are searchable, or customers can browse in order to find the desired products.
