Gross & Schuster P.A. of Crestview, a Florida law firm, is committed to serving residents of the south with the best legal help possible. This is why they are proud to announce that they have now hired a Crestview personal injury lawyer team to better represent residents of that part of the state. Through the Crestview office, they will be delivering all the services they provide in their other locations.

Terence Gross, partner in Gross & Schuster P.A. of Crestview, says: "We have opened up offices in a range of different cities across Florida, and are happy to now have a presence in Crestview as well. Our goal is to make sure that people receive proper legal representation if they have been involved in a personal injury, and we welcome everyone through our doors."

The Crestview lawyers belong to an A+ accredited firm with the Better Business Bureau, a rating they have worked very hard to achieve and maintain. They point out that it is their commitment to justice. The company initially started as a criminal defense law firm, but quickly added personal injury legal services. In every case, the lawyers are committed to protecting the rights of their clients in all matters of criminal law.

The focus for Gross & Schuster P.A. is now mainly on all motor vehicle accidents, which include car accidents. Additionally, they handle premises liability and admiralty law. Furthermore, they deal with cases involving both injuries and fatalities.

Those who have worked with the firm have all agreed that it is the best accident lawyer Crestview has to offer. "I can not say how honored I was to have this lawyer on my side almost 2 years ago," says Elaine B on the firm's Facebook page. "I'm looking forward to our next project. Clearing my name. I owe Mr. Gross more than I can ever repay him. May God bless him in his law practice as he blessed me."

Gross & Schuster prides itself on always putting the focus on their client. They encourage any Crestview resident who has a legal matter to contact them as soon as possible.
