

Miami Marketing Company Announces Social Media Services For Brand Growth

June 01, 2015

June 01, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

CMS Social, a marketing company based in Miami, has announced that their social media services are perfect for growing brands from the bottom up. They have made it clear that with so much business taking place online, the only way to rise above competitors in any market is to build a firm reputation with consumers online. A more thorough description of these services can be found on the company site.

The Social Media Service provided by CMS Social offers businesses of any size or experience a form of social media management which includes consistent and unique content posting and customer service. A large selection of industries are now incorporating Facebook, Twitter, and other platforms into their marketing techniques as a means of interacting with clients and customers, and keeping brands fresh in the minds of those who see them. The company allows users of their services to rest easy with the knowledge that these matters will be taken care of without the need for new staff or excessive time spent online when it could be better used elsewhere. They have been quoted in saying:

"As the saying goes "Variety's the Spice of Life", and in terms of Social Media Marketing that statement remains true. Utilizing your Social Profile our content writers craft a variety of engaging content designed to help attract followers, gain 'Likes', and build your audience."

One of the benefits of the business and their services is the low social media pricing which they offer to clients. They have suggested that the costs involved in their social media management packages are affordable and far superior to competitors within the online marketing field. A list of these prices can be viewed on the company website, with the most basic package beginning at $129 per month for content posting to sites such as Facebook, Twitter, Google+, Pinterest, and LinkedIn. All of the packages include customer service, and more inclusive options can be obtained for a higher monthly rate. They have said the following regarding the way that they manage client accounts, such as Twitter:

"We will respond to and interact with your followers, which can be the most important part of managing your Twitter account. We will respond to every single person who talks to, mentions, and direct messages you, plus interact with and retweet interesting relevant tweets from your niche and your followers."

By utilizing the contact page, found at <http://www.cmssocial.com/contact-us/>, businesses can contact CMS Social through a number of different communication methods, including an easy to fill out online form. The company encourages questions and other interaction, and also provides an FAQ section and blog to help businesses better understand what these services can mean for brand management and higher conversion rates from site visitors to sales.

The team at CMS Social suggests that customer loyalty is an important part of any industry, and by utilizing social media to keep in touch with consumers, businesses can easily expand this loyalty ranking. They hope to help all of their clients create interesting content while still forwarding important messages for managerial approval.
